UK tax risk management and governance arrangements

We operate a tax control framework which focuses on having the right control environment, risk identification, effective channels of communication and monitoring of compliance with relevant legislation.

Overall responsibility for the tax control framework is with Avaya's Chief Financial Officer, supported by Avaya's Group Financial Controller, Avaya's Head of Taxes and the group's broader finance function.

We are committed to being compliant with tax legislation and our internal structure is set up to ensure:

- The Boards of Directors of all the UK companies understand the importance of tax compliance and how it is achieved,
- There is open and continued dialogue between the Boards of Directors of all the UK companies and those individuals responsible for the operation of our finance function, regarding the way tax risks are identified and managed, and
- The business maintains a positive view towards tax compliance and the importance of meeting our obligations.

Avaya does not accept any form of behaviour that facilitates the evasion of tax, whether in the UK or in any other jurisdiction. Avaya is committed to ensuring that it has appropriate procedures in place to prevent tax evasion by anyone acting on its behalf.

This approach aligns with our broader Code of Conduct, which applies to all directors and employees. This Code of Conduct covers a variety of topics, including conflicts of interest, confidentiality of information and compliance with applicable laws and regulations. The Code of Conduct is also available at our Investor Relations website located at investors.avaya.com.

Attitude towards UK tax risk and tax planning

Our approach is to observe all applicable laws, rules, regulations and reporting and disclosure requirements.

The potential impact of new tax laws is also evaluated to ensure compliance is maintained.

When entering into transactions or making changes to the business, we assess the tax risks and impacts and ensure that the business remains compliant with the relevant laws. We aim to ensure that all tax positions are based on sound commercial business activity.

Where there is uncertainty or complexity, we have relationships with professional advisers that allow us to seek expert advice on specialist areas of tax.

Relationship with HM Revenue and Customs (HMRC)

We seek to have a constructive and cooperative relationship with HMRC. This is built on timely tax compliance, including the filing of tax returns, tax payments and responses to HMRC queries.
